Everyone with a heart for a sustainable city is welcome, attendance is free!

During 2021, Scholars United for a Sustainable Amsterdam (SUSA) brought together Amsterdam's academics to help Amsterdam realise its ambition to align with the model of donut economics. Amsterdam's citizens shared stories about obstacles standing in the way of more sustainable ways of living or doing business. During this conference, four interdisciplinary teams of academics will share their ideas and work with the audience to overcome key barriers to a sustainable city. The conference is in English.
